

BlueCamroo finalizes a complete overhaul of BlueCamroo's internal architecture and announces a Workspace Collaboration Bridge.

CONCORD – May 1st, 2017 – BlueCamroo announces the launch of crucial internal architecture changes in preparation for the Workspace Collaboration Bridge, a unique, and industry-first inter-company collaboration feature. These upgrades also make BlueCamroo even more secure, faster and most importantly, future-proof.

“The BlueCamroo Workspace Collaboration Bridge will take collaboration on projects to the next level, and is unlike anything we’ve seen in the Project Management solutions space,” says BlueCamroo President and CEO Tomek Maszkiewicz. “With the Workspace Collaboration Bridge, users of different BlueCamroo workspaces will be able to collaborate with each other to work-on and complete Projects. Most importantly though such collaboration will not incur any additional subscription costs.”

This functionality is extremely useful in the current and evolving business landscape where more and more companies are teaming up and collaborating with other companies.
